The Edit Gallery is excited to announce The Art of Now: Dialogues Across Contemporary Practices, a compelling group exhibition opening on November 29, 2024. Featuring works by 17 artists, the exhibition showcases talents from the gallery's roster alongside others specially invited by the exhibition's director and curator, Elena Ioannidou. This diverse lineup offers a rich exploration of contemporary art, engaging with themes of identity, heritage, and the human condition.

Participating artists include Alec Cumming, Alejandra Atares, Alexandros Simopoulos, Antonakis, Danae Patsalou, Dimitris Gketsis, Eleni Psyllaki, Elina Ioannou, Evelin Anastasiou, Fikos, Hannah Rowan, Johannes Holt Iversen, Lefki Savvidou, Luke Alex Atkinson, Mariandrie, Stella Kapezanou, and Yeti.

Spanning a variety of mediums—including painting, sculpture, and mixed media—the exhibition highlights the interdisciplinary and innovative nature of contemporary practices. Each work serves as a conversation starter, inviting audiences to reflect on pressing cultural and social issues while exploring art's evolving role in shaping modern life. Through the unique perspectives of the participating artists, viewers are encouraged to connect with the present and consider their place within it.

The Art of Now emphasizes the importance of cross-disciplinary practices and celebrates the innovation and creativity that define today's art world.
